NCCS celebrates Catholic Schools Week with events

DUNKIRK — Northern Chautauqua Catholic School recently completed their celebration of Catholic Schools Week.

The celebration began with a Sunday Chili Cookoff/Pie Bakeoff Competition. Everyone voted on their favorite chili choice from among the two dozen entries and the judges had a challenge determining the top three winners from the excellent pies. More than 100 gift baskets raffled off in this family-friendly kickoff to a week long celebration.

Students began their school week by saying the Living Rosary all together in the gymnasium, and continued throughout the day showing school pride through upkeep and organizing activities. Pre-K through fourth grade students prepared for Valentine's Day by making cards for the local priests, NCCS faculty and their fellow students.

Tuesday was a "Family" themed day that brought families together sharing picnic lunches and enjoying the children's amazing abilities in a Talent Show. Pre-K through second grade students entertained showing their strength in Simon Says.

Wednesday the school enjoyed a comfortable Pajama Day, but still found a wonderful service opportunity. The children participated in a pillow making event that memorialized deceased members of the Circle of Love.

Circle of Love is a community group led by Josie Christopher. Fabric, stuffing and sewing materials are donated for volunteers to sew pillow cases. The students stuffed the pillow cases and they are distributed by Christopher and friends to cancer patients or to those who are in a need of love and care.

A day of learning about vocations followed the Thursday weekly Mass. Area religious spoke with the children and thank you cards were made for the generous NCCS Angels campaign contributors.

School Spirit Day concluded the week with the children wearing their purple and gold best. They all took part in a fun-filled Garbage Ball Tournament.
